

LONG FLAT

Leading the release of the new vintages this year are the two most popular wines from the range: Long Flat Semillon Sauvignon Blanc 2008 and Cabernet Merlot 2008. And one new to the range, Pink Moscato 2009. Made in Moscato d'Asti style, this wine has a relatively gentle six per cent alcohol with a frizzante character and delivers the natural fruity, spice aroma and flavour of the muscat grape. A small splash of shiraz adds a soft pink colour and a dash of raspberry.

But wait, there's more. The new lean and green vintages come with an environmentally-themed promotion. While stocks last, each bottle will carry a seed stick, Parsley, Basil, Chives, Thyme, Tarragon, Oregano. We are assured they can be grown on a window sill or out in the yard.

Try the Semillon Sauvignon Blanc with mussels in white wine and parsley or the Cabernet Merlot with Basil Chicken Cannelloni.

Independent, Wine, David Bray
May 26, 2010